POLYGONUM AUBERTI

The Delightful Silver Lace Vine

ALWAYS scarce and in demand is the charming climber Polygonum Auberti, which will clamber gracefully up a trellis, over a tree trunk, a wall, a porch, an arch, or upon any support which necessity or fancy will devise.

It will rapidly climb 20 feet or more, with fresh green foliage lightly bronzed at the tips, and a profusion of silvery, lacy flowers in erect sprays, even more beautiful than the popular Clematis paniculata, which blooms at approximately the same time.

A well-grown specimen is a cloud of lacy, misty white, shot with tints of cream and pale rose of most exquisite effect. It is enthusiastically acclaimed by all good gardeners and people of taste as one of the finest of the uncommon vines.
